DU GANNE DELIGHT—Not more than one to a customer.

Greetings

I hope you will read this page through, as I have something to say that will interest you.

Right "off the bat" I want to thank those of you who have ordered bulbs from us so generously in 1926. Your orders more than equaled the total in cash value for the three previous years combined. Considering the reduced prices for 1926 you ordered three times as many bulbs as in 1925. The most pleasing part of it is that a large percentage of orders in 1926 were from those who had formerly purchased our bulbs. Evidently our bulbs are giving satisfaction.

For 1927 we are prepared to again take care of your increased orders. You will note there has been another material reduction in prices. We harvested a fine crop of bulbs from twenty-eight acres as against eighteen acres the previous year.

We have doubled the capacity of our storehouse (see cut on Page 48), and have installed machines for grading and cleaning the bulbs. This has increased the rapidity of handling as the bulbs came in from the fields so that they have passed through the drying rooms in 100% better condition than any other year.

I want to warn you, however, that many varieties are still in limited supply and the early orders will get them. This is especially true of those listed on the pink pages.

Just a word about those pink pages. We have two classes of customers. One class are desirous of having just a few Glads in their gardens and are entirely justified in wanting good reliable varieties at a moderate price. Last year perhaps you opened our catalog and about the first thing you saw near the head of the list was Allen V. Bunce priced at $1.50 each. You said "Robber" and put it aside, overlooking the fact that some good varieties were priced at $.05 each. Now we don't enjoy being called such names, so we have listed for your convenience all the moderate priced ones on the white pages.

The other class of customers are the Glad Fans. You already have all the better known varieties and want something new and different. You cannot wait until the price comes down and everybody has them. The prices will come down in time and we are reducing them each year, but if we offered them too low you would buy all we have and we would never be able to propagate a large stock. So for you we have listed the extra fine rare varieties on the pink pages. Quality and rarity considered, I am sure you will find them priced reasonably.

The descriptions of "BILL'S ORIGINATIONS" are as accurate as I am able to make them. In most cases the colors are described to conform to Ridgway's Standard Color Chart. I want to be honest with you and tell you that I have never yet seen a Glad that I thought was perfect in every way. Chas. Gersdorff has become the recognized authority on the scoring of Glads, but he has never yet scored one 100%. He has rated many of BILL'S ORIGINATIONS above 90% and he considers an 80% Glad in the Superlative Class.

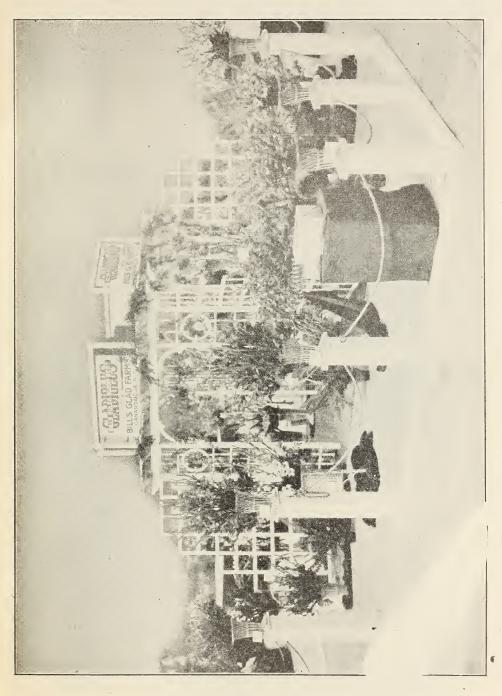

I have told you the good points of each variety but have made no effort to tell you of the defects. If the defects are sufficient to make one undesirable, I simply do not list it at all.

A place is provided on our order sheet for you to answer "No" if you do not want us to make substitutions. We do not substitute as long as we have what you order, but after a variety is exhausted we put in a similar one of equal or greater value unless you say "No". The substitute will be correctly labeled.

You will find a number of special offers in this catalog. You will note each offer makes you a saving in price. Please don't ask us to make changes in these offers. It makes extra work in entering and packing your order.

You will note on Page 40 a scale of discounts you can use in making your own collections. Please don't apply the discounts to the special offers as we have already done so in making them up.

In April and May we will get the largest rush of orders and every one in a hurry. We can serve you better if we get a goodly portion of your orders in January, February and March. If you will just leave it to me, I will see that you get a nice present with orders over $2.00 sent in March, a better one with February orders and still better with January orders. You will get an acknowledgment of January, February and March orders promptly, but in April and May we may be too rushed to do so. Shipping will begin as early in March as the weather permits.

Will you please give us the names of your friends who have gardens. We do not buy lists of names, but if you will put them on the back of your order sheet it will be a pleasure to slip something extra in with your order just to show our appreciation.

On Page 46 you will find a few items of Garden Furniture. This is manufactured in Canandaigua for us and we can guarantee it as to quality and workmanship. On Page 45 we list some of the best garden books available. Also a few accessories on Page 45.

I solicit your continued good will and patronage.

Yours most cordially,
GLADIOLUS BILL.

FIRST PRIZE—TABLE DECORATION.

At American Gladiolus Society Exhibit in Rochester, 1926.

(The variety used was Theda).

CLASSIFICATION OF GLADS.

The American Gladiolus Society has recognized and classified three distinct types of Gladiolus.

The Grandiflorus or exhibition type with large flowers, sturdy growth, and many flowers open at a time facing one direction.

The Primulinus type with hooded flowers, of medium size, spaced well apart on graceful wiry stems.

The (P. G.) Primulinus Grandiflerus type combining the size and dignity of the Grandiflorus, with the grace and beauty of the Primulinus. This is the type destined to become most popular with those who know Glads.

The Society also recognizes certain variations of these three types which make them best adapted for commercial cut flower purposes as well as those with characteristics making them most valuable for landscape decoration.

In our descriptions you will find frequent reference to these types and our recommendation for the uses to which they are best adapted.

There's a Reason!

A LITTLE CHAT WITH THE BEGINNER.

Probably you know something of the beauty of the Gladiolus, and I am giving this little chat for the benefit of those who are just breaking into the game and whose practical knowledge is more or less meager.

Most of you already know what I shall have to say and may be able to say it better than I can.

What does a Gladiolus look like?

This is answered by just telling you to look at the pictures in this catalog.

Does it grow from a seed?

Sure thing, but you never buy seeds. Very few try to grow them from seeds because they do not come true to color. You buy bulbs, that will give you flowers the first summer.

When do you buy them?

You may place your order at any time and the bulbs are sent to you early in the spring. You plant them any time in the spring after the weather is settled. Watch your trees and when they start to put out new leaves it is time to plant your Glads.

Where do you plant them?

I once delivered a package of bulbs to a little lady who was in the habit of planting her potatoes, beans and such according to the old time almanac. Her remark was, "Shall I plant them in the moon?" For a minute I did not grasp her meaning, but when I "came up for air" replied, "No, just plant them in the earth." To answer the question seriously, I will tell you to plant them in the garden. By this I mean don't dig out a little square or long narrow space in the lawn and just stick them in. Don't plant them along the side of a building. They want light, air and sunshine from all directions to do their best. If you want them to do their worst just plant them near a maple or eim tree. Perhaps a little shade from the tree would not hurt them, but beware of the tree roots. Those tree roots are taking all the plant food from the soil twice as far as the spread of the branches. Your Glads would simply starve.

How do you plant them?

First of all plant them right side up. If you cannot tell which is the top, remove the husk from one bulb. It does not hurt them to remove the husk but don't let anyone tell you they will do better with the husk off. It is only a waste of time to do it. Now with the husk off see those circular rings on the bulbs. Just above each ring is an eye. The eye is where the top growth starts and the bulbs must be planted with the eyes up.

You may plant them in rows or in solid masses. The easy way is to make a trench about five inches deep and place the bulbs on the bottom of the trench four inches apart. Then fill the trench level full with good soil. Put your rows far enough apart to allow for cultivation. If you want to walk between the rows have them three feet apart.

Do they need rich soil?

Yes and no. Good fertile soil will produce the finest blooms. If it is too rich with fresh manure it will burn them. Apply the manure the previous fall or use only a light top dressing after planting. Use Vigoro or sheep manure any time. Don't spade up a piece of old lawn or grass for your Glads. The top layer with the grass sod is filled with grubs, cut worms and wire worms. They are liable to attack your bulbs and plants. Better carry the sod away to a compost heap and put in new soil to replace it. Ask your druggist for a small piece of blue litmus paper. Bury this in your bed, then go and look at it in half an hour. If it shows signs of turning red sprinkle some lime on the surface and work it in before planting.

What good are weeds?

Weeds are a blessing to your garden, if you don't let them grow. If it were not for the weeds we would not cultivate our gardens enough. They just make us do it! Your plants have to grow by taking up water from the soil with the plant foods in solution. If you don't culivate, a crust forms on the surface. The crust evaporates moisture from the soil faster than a loose surface would and then your plants go hungry and thirsty. The roots of those plants also have to be supplied with air, which can not reach them through the hard crust.

Do they need drainage?

Put a sponge in a pail of water and watch the air bubbles rise to the surface.

When the bubbles stop you know the sponge is full of water and all the air is gone out of it. Then take the sponge out and let it drain. After a while your sponge is still wet but all the openings are filled with air again. Now remember that plant roots need air, and try to figure out how they are going to get it if water stands around your plants. You have the same condition as the sponge in the pail of water. If there is not natural drainage to your soil you should provide it.

Should they be watered?

Bet your life they should. But listen, the good Lord can do it better than you can. Save your watering until you know they need it badly then do a good job. When you have finished dig in to see if it has wet down six inches. If not, keep at it until it has. Don't sprinkle a little every evening. Better not water at all than do that. A little sprinkle only induces the roots to push up toward the surface and next day the hot sun kills them. Water deep, induce the roots to grow down, stir the surface next day to dry the top and let air in. Then let alone for a week or so.

May I cut them for house decoration?

"Sure as shootin" you may! Your plants will grow from 6 to 9 leaves before the buds and blooms appear. When the first one or two blooms are open on a stalk cut the stem out between the fifth and sixth leaves counting from the bottom. Cut the flower stem as long as possible but for the "loveomike" leave at least four good uninjured leaves on the plant. These are the bulb factory to make your new bulb. Put the cut spikes in water. A vase 8 to 10 inches deep nearly full of water. Give fresh water every day and cut one-half inch off the bottom of the stem and remove the wilted flowers. Oh! Lady, Lady, don't use the scissors for cutting. Get a sharp There is a reason but I haven't room to tell it here. When the very top flowers bloom, cut the stems off short and put in a low bowl. This will be about 10 days after you first cut them in the garden.

Do I leave the bulbs in the ground over winter?

For goodness sakes no! At least not unless you want to buy new ones next year. If you buy all the bulbs you have room for this year, you will not need to buy more for several years. So don't let them freeze in the ground. Watch those trees again and when the leaves drop off it is time to dig your bulbs. Cut the tops off close to the bulbs as soon as you dig them. Put where they will dry for 2 or 3 weeks.

PATRICIA
(Descripton on page 28)

Then see how easy the old bulb you planted and the roots will come off the new bulbs. Throw the old bulbs away as they are worthless. Put the new bulbs where they will not freeze but not too hot and dry. If you have a frost proof fruit and potato cellar that is the best place. Look the bulbs over about Groundhog day, and if mouldy or roots starting, they are too damp. Give them ventilation. If the top sprouts are starting they are too warm. Put in a cooler place. Then look at them again early in March. You will have the new catalog by this time and if space permits I know you will want to order some more of "Bill's Bulbs".

Here's hoping you did not fall asleep reading this, but if you did I wish you luck when you wake up.

"GLAD. BILL."

BILL'S ORIGINATIONS

As Good As the Best and Better Than Many

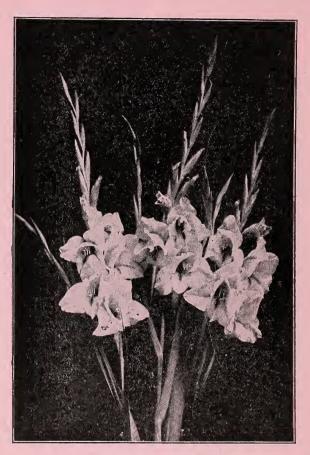

SUMMER DREAM

On these pink pages we are listing the newer rare varieties. These are the ones the Glad Fans are looking for. Each one has some outstanding character which makes it worthy of a place in the connoisseur's garden. All are "BILL'S ORIGINATIONS" of exceptional merit. Mr. Charles Gersdorff has classified and rated many of them. Just remember that when he rates a Glad 80 or better he considers it belongs in the highest class of Super Glads. These are the varieties we used most extensively in our exhibits which won the four silver cups on page 4. The 1927 introductions are listed on page 32.

Slightly ruffled petals, good substance and excellent grower. An unusual exhibition variety. See illustration aboveEach 40c; 3 for $1.00; Doz. $4.00

[&]quot;Lucette bloomed for all she was worth. She sure cuts loose when she starts. Sold most all spikes at wholesale at a time when the ash barrel was getting a big per cent of the cut. Your exclamation of delight will prolong the "Oh!" and follow with a sharp explosive "Boy". A brilliant red, self color without markings. Flowers 7" or more across and petals extremely thick. HOW TO PRONOUNCE GLADIOLUS.

At the annual convention of the American Gladiolus Society in 1925 a resolution was adopted putting the society on record as approving the pronunciation Gla-di-o-lus. The accent on the third syllable with o as in note. The resolution also provided for the adoption of Gladiolus for both the plural and singular forms. The action taken has received the approval of nearly all fans and growers except the few who do not know the "war is over".

Unnamed Seedlings

I find we have hundreds of unnamed seedling varieties worthy of a place in any high class collection. It is out of the question to name all of them. After destroying all the poor ones, I am going to use the others to make up special offers for those who want some new faces in their gardens. Some of the varieties I include in these collections will be given names and a place in our catalog in a year or so. They will be tagged by number so you can request information later as to whether they have been named. If you are particularly fond of some of them, write us your description of them, giving the good points as well as defects, and let us have your suggestion as to a suitable name. If we accept the name, we will send you 12 bulbs of the variety gratis.

We are going to pack 12 varieties of these unnamed seedlings in a nice box, all labeled by number, and send them to you postpaid for $5.00 a box. We can supply you with several boxes without duplicating any variety.

"How Cum" Gladiolus Vill

Once upon a time (as all stories must start) there lived in a flat a man of middle age who received a check once every so often from a large corporation. To make sure that these checks would keep coming it was necessary that he apply himself diligently to the supervision of the corporation's branch office and factory. Now supervision starts somewhere just below the chin and continues upward to the proverbial bald spot. While supervision is supposed to control innumerable difficulties it fails when called upon to keep a leather belt from shrinking. So it happened when the last hole was punched in the very end of the belt supporting a part of this man's quite necessary wearing apparel, then he realized something definite must be done without delay.

No, a standard golf course could not fit in that 2x4 back yard, but he did find that the hardware store handled a line of close quarters golf sticks, known as hoes, forks, rakes, trowels and dibbles. His best friend, who always called him by that most familiar of all names "Bill," chanced to meet him with the new assortment of irons and shouted, "Hey, Bill, what's the big idea?" Bill, promptly pulled from his pocket the instruction book handed to him by the hardware man. This book not only gave all the rules of the game, but prices as well of such necessary articles as seeds, plants, bulbs and fertilizers. "Oh," says Al, "who is going to do the work? Where is the farm?" A bit preved, Bill replied "None o' your bizness, watch me."

Sure enough, Al did watch him and the second summer he saw that little back yard a blaze of glory. "What you call them things, Bill?" he inquired. "Gladiolus," says Bill, "and I am making some new ones." From that time on Al always called him Gladiolus Bill. Others took it up and he soon became widely known under that title. Then came much reading and study of the laws governing heredity, topped off later with a course at Cornell for more information.

In a very short time it was necessary to secure more space and finally Bill decided to do without any more of those corporation checks. The new Glads that Bill had made became so popular that the business grew up almost over night and in 1926 under the corporate name of "Bill's Glad Farms" ne had twenty-eight acres devoted entirely to Gladiolus. To get even with Al he has named a very wonderful variety Allen V. Bunce.

Three things have contributed to this wonderful development of a back yard hobby. First, a love for growing things. Second, the production of varieties of real merit with a frank honest description of them. Third, the use of a trade name that you can remember, as few of you would have patronized Wm. Purple as freely as you have Gladiolus Bill.

WE THANK YOU

We would be grateful to you if you sent us the names of your friends whom you know to be interested in Glads. Perhaps, too, we might slip something extra in with your order if you did this. Why not try it?

NEW STORE HOUSE

The above illustration will give you some conception of our storage facilities and working force. Much of the vitality in Gladiolus bulbs is sometimes lost through improper curing and storing. The upper portion of this building is especially designed for thoroughly curing the bulb crop when harvested through the proper application of heat and correct ventilation.

The basement is built of solid concrete, frost proof, and is maintained at proper humidity to keep the bulbs in plump and vigorous growing condition.

CULTURAL DIRECTIONS

Unpack the bulbs as soon as received and keep in a cool dry cellar until ready to plant.

Any good garden soil will answer but do not use any fresh manure in the spring. If fertilizer is required apply barnyard manure the previous fall or use Vigoro in the spring.

WHEN TO PLANT: In central New York the best time to plant is from May 1st to 15th, when the weather has become settled. If you are farther south plant earlier. A good plan is to plant when Maple trees begin to open their leaves. For later flowers you may plant at various periods up to the 4th of July.

HOW TO PLANT: The general method is to plant in rows anywhere from 1½ feet to 4 feet apart, depending on the method of cultivation to be employed. Dig a trench 5 inches deep and 2 inches wide at the bottom. Place the bulbs on the bottom of the trench, 3 inches to 5 inches apart, and then fill the trench level full with soil. Deep planting and close planting both help the plants to stand erect at blooming time. We never have to tie them to stakes in our fields.

WHERE TO PLANT: They will bloom if planted most anywhere. They will not be at their best if roots from large trees penetrate the ground where they are located. Remember that the roots of trees reach out further than the branches. Neither will they be very happy planted against the house or porch. Out in the garden or in special beds is the place where they will flaunt their beauty to perfection. Plenty of air and sunshine makes them strong and sturdy.

WATER: If you wish you may water them in dry seasons but water thoroughly. Dig into the soil after you think they are soaked and if the soil is not wet 5 inches give them still more water. Don't sprinkle a little every evening but give them a thorough soaking and then let them alone for a week.

CULTIVATION: Do it after every rain or watering. Keep the surface loose and don't let the weeds live on the moisture which belongs to the Glads.

DIGGING AND STORING: As the Maples begin to lose their leaves, lift the bulbs, cut the top off close to the bulb and expose to sunshine for two or three days. Then store in a cool dry cellar, 40° is best. In about three weeks you can remove the old bulb and roots with ease. Look your stock over and order more bulbs from "Gladiolus Bill" for next season. Also send him a Christmas bulb order for that friend who admired your flowers.

BLOOMING TIME: Go out in the garden early each morning and see the new ones with the dew on them. The fresh flowers always open early in the morning. The buds never open after noon. If you want them for house decoration cut them in the forenoon when two or more flowers have opened. Put in vases or baskets with fresh cool water. Give fresh water every morning, remove wilted flowers and cut about ½ inch off the stem. Given this care, every bud on the stalk will open in the house. They often last a week or more after they are cut. We hope you will mark the names of varieties when you plant them. so that you can call them by name when you see them. Give them a personality and you will enjoy them twice as much. Before you forget it, select those you like best and send in a new order at once for more of those varieties.
